CRAFT BEER ^(A)

The German translation means “craft beer”. This is a “craft” or “hand-made” beer and therefore represents a contrast to industrial mass-produced beer. A craft beer differs from industrial beer primarily in the idea. The master brewer wants to create a unique taste experience here. In order to make the beer taste unique, mini-brewing systems are often used in addition to great experimentation. The different varieties and brewing styles are tasteful and skilfully brewed.

Craft beer is about the love of beer and its raw materials, detached from industrial mass taste. It's about the aromatic and individual taste experience.

According to the motto: “The better way to try is to study!”
